

Quest - Divine Meal

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Mary Nara

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: Captain Moreguns? I need your help! Carbonarians and Bolognesians are fighting all over the Boiling Frontiers!

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Again? Give 'em some pasta and booze, and they'll be singing space shanties in an hour.

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: You misunderstand, Captain. They have raised their cannons and started firing at each other.

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: With the undead Holy Lance fleet threatening the galaxy again, we can't afford infighting.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Any idea what their beef is about?

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: They can't make up their minds about what the Flying Spaghetti Monster is made of - Carbonara or Bolognese.

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: If you could just settle it. Pick a side if you need to. Anything to help them come to terms.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): I'll do what I can.

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: Thank you, Captain. May His Noodliness protect your hulls with sauce and soften your collisions.

OBJECTIVES - Resolve the Conflict between Bolognesians and Carbonarians

ACTION - Player returns to Mary Nara before completing her objectives

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Mary Nara

CAPTAIN MARY NARA: Have you solved their dispute yet, Captain? I can still hear cannon fire, and those are not the "Pastival" fireworks.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Aye. I'm on it.

ACTION - Player speaks to Bolognesians

Player sails to the Boiling Frontiers and comes across two ships exchanging cannon fire - the Bolognesian and the Carbonarian. They speak to Thermokon, the Bolognesian Captain

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Thermokon

CAPTAIN THERMOKON: Visitors identified. Pirates. Captain Moreguns. State your intentions.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): I've come on behalf of Captain Mary Nara to bring an end to your hostilities with the Carbonarians.

CAPTAIN THERMOKON: Impossible. Carbonarians contradict knowledge database entry: Flying Spaghetti Monster composition: "Bolognese." Unacceptable.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): The Pastafarian Gospel teaches us to accept pasta of all shapes and sizes, doesn't it?

CAPTAIN THERMOKON: Pastafarian Gospel is outdated. New directives apply. Flying Spaghetti Monster composition: "Bolognese." Heretics and blasphemers must be exterminated.

ACTION - Player speaks to Carbonarians

Player sails to the Boiling Frontiers and comes across two ships exchanging cannon fire - the Bolognesian and the Carbonarian. They speak to Carb O'Nara, the Carbonarian Captain

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Carb O'Nara

CAPTAIN CARB O'NARA: Greetings, weary spacefarers! Have you come to join our prayer to His Noodliness?

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): No, I've come to put an end to your pointless infighting... by order of Captain Mara Nara, I might add.

CAPTAIN CARB O'NARA: Not until these filthy Bolognesians renounce their heresy and accept the truth - His Noodliness is made of Carbonara, not Bolognese.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Err... does that really matter? Shouldn't we "love pasta of all shapes and sizes," as the Gospel teaches?

CAPTAIN CARB O'NARA: Choose your words carefully, Captain Moreguns. You are in no position to quote the Gospel to my face!

CAPTAIN CARB O'NARA: If you truly wish to stop the bloodshed, make Captain Thermokon of the Bolognesians renounce his blasphemous claims.

IF - The player spoke to both sides and isn't hostile to neither of them

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Sam

FIRST MATE SAM: Captain? I don't think we should be taking sides in their conflict. There has to be a peaceful solution.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Have ye seen them, mate? Do they sound like they want peace?

FIRST MATE SAM: They might, if we bring in someone well-versed in the Pastafarian Gospel. Someone like... Rabbi Yolly!

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): What? Are ye seriously gonna take advice from this looney?

FIRST MATE SAM: Looney or not, Pastafarians do listen to him. Why not give it a try?

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Alright. I'll think about it.

QUEST BRANCH - Peaceful Solution

ACTION - Player speaks to Rabbi Yolly

The player sails to Pasta Faria II, a large orbit station surrounded by a protective wall of giant space noodles.. They dock at the Pastafarian Shrine and spot Rabbi Yolly enjoying a pasta meal next to an altar

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Rabbi Yolly

RABBI YOLLY: Greetings, spacefarers! You must be so hungry! Come, have some Penne of Replenishment. Or, perhaps, it is wisdom you seek? Try the Dumplings of Enlightenment!

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Not this time. Bolognesians and Carbonarians are at each other's throats, arguing over what kind of pasta the Flying Spaghetti Monster is made of.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): I need your help to make them come to terms.

RABBI YOLLY: The Gospel clearly states that His Noodliness is made of every type of pasta that exists, has ceased to exist, and is yet to spring into existence.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): That is a valuable noodle of wisdom, no doubt. The problem is, they don't exactly follow the Gospel.

RABBI YOLLY: It saddens me to hear that. Perhaps a Divine Meal, consisting of every pasta dish in existence, might restore their faith.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Can you cook this Divine Meal?

RABBI YOLLY: A Divine meal requires a Divine inspiration. And that, in turn, requires a sacrifice. Bring me a Virgin Tomato to my altar, and I shall cook the meal for you.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Well, that's not a big deal. Sam, give him a virgin tomato from the kitchen!

RABBI YOLLY: No, I need THE Virgin Tomato. The one blessed by His Noodliness!

RABBI YOLLY: There is only one of a kind in the entire galaxy. And right now, it is in unworthy hands.

RABBI YOLLY: Speak to Kira Noodlesbane of the Antipasters. But be warned, she will not part with the Virgin Tomato with ease.

OBJECTIVES - Visit the Antipasters in their hideout

ACTION - Player returns to Rabbi Yolly before completing his objectives

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Rabbi Yolly

RABBI YOLLY: Merciful meatballs, you have returned! Have you brought the Virgin Tomato by chance? Or are you here for the Dumplings of Enlightenment?

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): I'll leave you to your prayers.

ACTION - Player speaks to Kira Noodlesbane

Player sails deep into a dense asteroid field in Rigatoni Rim and comes across a well-defended pirate space station with the Antipasters flag on its roof.

DIALOGUE - Moreguns & Kira

KIRA NOODLESBANE: Well, well, well, if it isn't Captain Moreguns! What brings you here, you old rag?

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): Rabbi Yolly told me you have the Virgin Tomato. I need it to end the bloodshed between the Bolognesians and Carbonarians.

KIRA NOODLESBANE: And why should it concern me?

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): The undead Holy Lance fleet is wreaking havoc across the galaxy. Don't you think it's time for the Pastafarians to stand united against a common enemy?

KIRA NOODLESBANE: Hmm... no.

But if you want the Virgin Tomato so badly, you can have it... for a price.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): What?! You want me to pay for a bloody tomato?

KIRA NOODLESBANE: It's not just any "bloody tomato", and you know it. After all, you came all the way here for it.

KIRA NOODLESBANE: This is the price. Take it or leave it.

RABBI YOLLY: Therefore, I shall not be able to assist you.

CAPTAIN MOREGUNS (PLAYER): So, this is it? Are ye gonna let Carbonarians and Bolognesians kill each other?

DIALOGUE - Sam & Rabbi Yolly

FIRST MATE SAM: This tomato doesn't match Rabbi Yolly's description, but it does look similar...

RABBI YOLLY: Most intriguing! By His Noodly Appendage, do tell!

FIRST MATE SAM: Well, there was a bit of a mess. And there were many... tomato casualties. But this little fella survived against all odds. I'd say this is not a coincidence.

RABBI YOLLY: You didn't go in cannons blazing, did you? One does not stop violence among Pastafarians by stirring violence among Pastafarians!

FIRST MATE SAM: Oh, not at all! They just had a little... accident... in the kitchen.

FIRST MATE SAM: The point is, if this little tomato survived when all the others did not, it must be a miracle! What if it's blessed by the Flying Spaghetti Monster?
